High Court Tech Roadmap

Delhi District Courts launches ePrison Integration

Implementation and Integration of the ePrison Module

Under the strategic direction of the Hon'ble eCommittee, Supreme Court of India, the ePrison Module has been successfully implemented within the Case Information System

(CIS) across the Delhi District Courts. This critical initiative is designed to streamline the management of prisoner data by enabling the systematic tagging of prisoner IDs. By integrating the CIS with the ePrison platform, the judiciary can now more effectively ascertain the number of accused persons lodged in various Delhi jails and precisely track the duration of their incarceration. This data is continuously replicated on the National Judicial Data Grid (NJDG) admin portal, providing a comprehensive and transparent view of the total number of accused persons currently in jail and the specific duration of their incarceration. The formal inauguration of this integrated system is scheduled to take place during the upcoming National Conference to be held from April 11 to April 12, 2026.

Capacity Building and Training Initiatives

To ensure the successful adoption and operation of this module, the Delhi District Courts have prioritized comprehensive training for court personnel across multiple jurisdictions. At the Karkardooma District Court complex, specialized training programs focusing on the integration of CIS with the ePrison module and the technical nuances of tagging Under Trial Prisoner (UTP) IDs were conducted for the court staff of the East, North-East and Shahdara Districts on February 14, 2026, and February 18, 2026. This capacity building effort continued at the Tis Hazari District Court, where a dedicated training session on the same module and tagging procedures was held for the court staff of the Central and West Districts on March 21, 2026.

These sessions serve as a vital component in ensuring that the digital infrastructure effectively supports judicial efficiency and transparency across the capital.

High Court of Karnataka - Use of Blockchain Technology in Judiciary

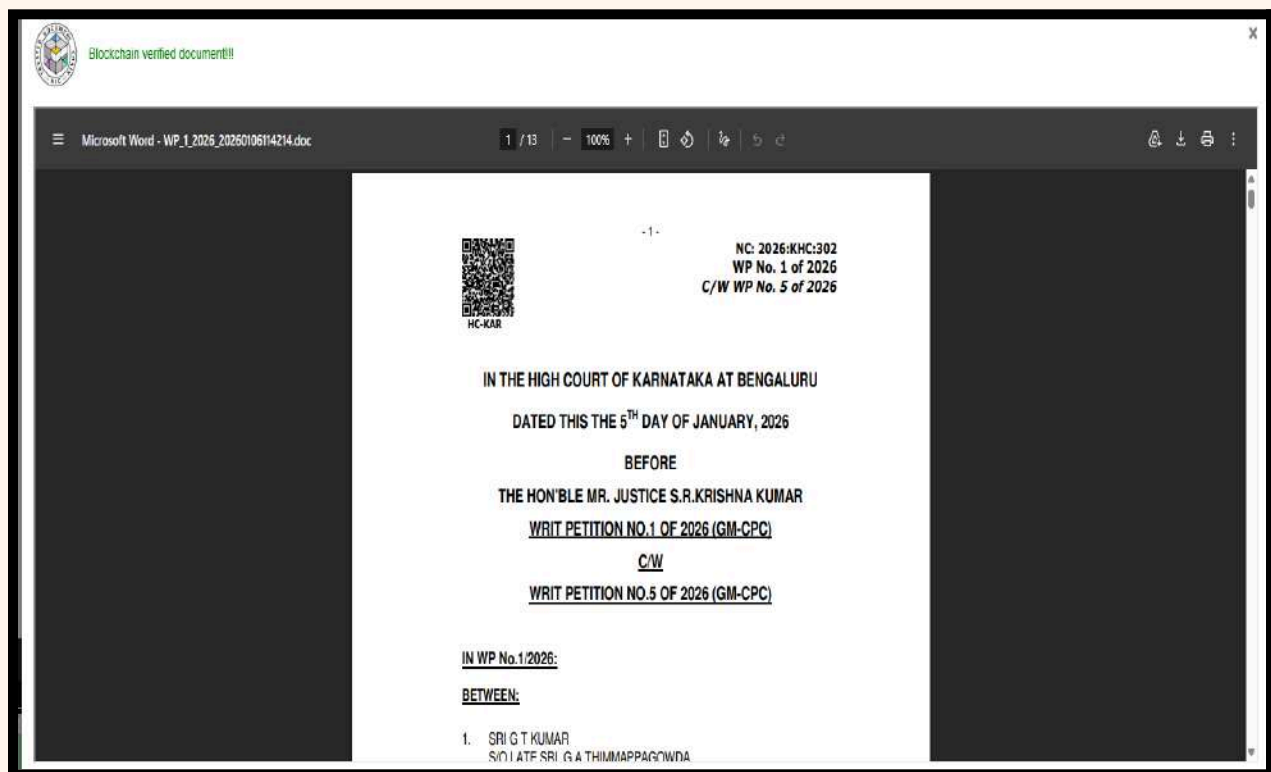

The High Court of Karnataka has launched a pioneering e-Initiative leveraging Blockchain Technology to enhance judicial case management with a secure, tamper-proof and verifiable system. Under this mechanism, each digitally signed judgment is converted into a unique hash value and the corresponding case details along with the hash are pushed to the blockchain at the end of every day. This ensures an additional layer of security and data integrity, safeguarding judicial records against manipulation. The process is fully supported by an automated daily scheduling system, guaranteeing timely, consistent and secure updates to the blockchain, thereby reinforcing trust and transparency in digital judicial processes.

When a citizen accesses a judgment through the option given in the judicial portal at <https://judiciary.karnataka.gov.in>, the system forwards the case details and the judgment's hash value to the blockchain for verification. If the hash value matches the record stored on the blockchain, the blockchain server confirms that the judgment is verified and authentic. In scenarios where a case has multiple judgments or where a judgment has been modified, each version is recorded on the BlockChain on the day it is issued. When the judgments are referred from the website of HCK/CIS, the content of the judgments is verified in the blockchain before displaying the judgment.

Overall, the project delivers a robust, scalable and secure blockchain-based solution for judicial data management. It enhances transparency, guarantees data immutability and provides reliable public access to authenticated judicial records, thereby strengthening the efficiency and credibility of the judicial information system.
